

Explore the Woonasquatucket River from the water! Join us on one (or more!) of our paddles in the Woonasquatucket River watershed this summer!

We have canoes and kayaks, paddles and life jackets, or you are welcome to bring your own boat. Children are welcome as long as they are accompanied by an adult.

For most of our trips, if you are using one of our boats the price is $20/person. If you are bringing your own boat the price is $5/person. For our longer weekend paddles on Woonasquatucket Reservoir the prices are $25 and $6 respectively. On all trips, if you are bringing your own boat please remember to bring a wearable life jacket for everyone who will be in your boat.

Email or call Erik at the Watershed Council at finaltalley@gmail.com or (401) 481-1376 to register and for more details. Advance sign-up is required.

Detailed information about each paddle:

★ Lower River: June 14, June 29, July 13, July 28, Aug. 11, Aug. 21, Sept. 9, and Oct. 1

Join us for an afternoon or after work paddle on the lower Woonasquatucket! We will start at the landing on South Water Street and paddle up through Waterplace Park to near Atwells Avenue and then return to the starting point. We go right through downtown Providence on this paddle, but we have seen red-tailed hawks, great blue herons, and many other birds in this stretch of the river. The complete trip is about 4 miles.

★ Greystone Mill Pond: Oct. 6

Greystone Mill Pond, on the border of Johnston, North Providence and Smithfield, is a narrow, winding pond with many twists and turns, and wetlands along the way. We will put in at Cricket Park in Johnston and paddle up the pond for about 5/8 mile and then turn around and paddle back to the starting point. We often see ducks, herons and other birds on this paddle.

★ Georgiaville: July 21 and Aug. 30

Join us for an evening paddle on scenic and peaceful Georgiaville Pond in Smithfield. We will put in at the historic Smith-Appleby House and make a 2 mile circuit around the pond. This will take us past pretty, pine tree covered islands and a town park.

★ Stillwater Pond and Stillwater Trail: August 3

This paddle takes us through the “narrows of the Woonasquatucket,” under the historic Smithfield Viaduct and into Stillwater Pond. We will put in just below the dam at Woonasquatucket Reservoir and paddle from there down to the outlet of Stillwater Pond. There we will get out of the boats and go for a short walk on the Stillwater Scenic Trail before paddling back to the starting point. Please note that the put-in for this paddle is more challenging than any of our other put-ins. At normal water levels it involves walking out on some partly submerged, sharp rocks to get into the boats so this paddle is not recommended for people who are uncomfortable walking on difficult footing.

★ Woonasquatucket Reservoir (Stump Pond): July 2, Sept. 11, and October 16

Paddle the largest and one of the least developed reservoirs in the watershed! We'll put in on the west side of Woonasquatucket Reservoir in Smithfield and paddle from there up to the north end, where the Woonasquatucket flows into the reservoir at Mowry Conservation Area. There we will stop for a picnic lunch (bring your own lunch) and take a short walk up to see a beautiful rocky area the river cuts through in the conservation area and a colonial-era mill site. If people are interested we can also explore the southern arm towards Mountindale Reservoir. The paddle is approximately 2 ½ miles long, not including the southern arm. With the southern arm it is about 5 miles in total.
